4.0 How we share data

4.1 Our service providers and suppliers

In order to make certain services available to you, we may need to share your personal data with some of our service partners. These include HMRC, cloud storage and IT providers.

SiMBA only allows its service providers to handle your personal data when we have confirmed that they apply appropriate data protection and security controls. We also impose contractual obligations on service providers relating to data protection and security, which mean they can only use your data to provide services to SiMBA and to you, and for no other purposes.

4.2 Other third parties

Apart from our service providers, SiMBA will not disclose your personal data to any other third party unless we are legally obliged to do so. We will never sell or rent our customer data to other organisations for marketing purposes.

We may share your data with: -

- credit reference agencies where necessary for card payments
- governmental bodies, regulators, law enforcement agencies, courts/tribunals and insurers where we are required to do so
- to comply with our legal obligations
- to exercise our legal rights (for example in court cases)
- for the prevention, detection, investigation of crime or prosecution of offenders
- for the protection of our employees and other users of our services

5.0 International transfers

To deliver a full range of services to you, it may be necessary for SiMBA to share your data outside of the UK. This will typically occur when service providers are located outside the UK or if you are accessing our services from outside the UK. These transfers are subject to special rules under data protection legislation.

If this happens, we will ensure that the transfer will be compliant with data protection law and all personal data will be secure. Our standard practice will be to use 'standard data protection clauses' which have been approved for such transfers, often abbreviated to SCC's.

The SCCs contain contractual obligations on the data exporter and the receiver, and rights for the individuals whose personal data is transferred. Individuals can directly enforce those rights against the data importer and the data exporter.

6.0 How long your data is retained

We will not retain your data for longer than necessary for the purposes set out in this notice. Different retention periods apply for different types of data, however the longest we will normally hold any personal data is 7 (seven) years.

If you are using a computing device in a public location, we recommend that you always log out and close the website browser when you complete an online session.

In addition, we recommend that you take the following security measures to enhance your online safety: -

- Keep your account passwords private. Remember, anybody who knows your password may be able to access your information
- When creating a password, use at least 16 characters. A combination of letters, symbols and numbers is best. Or use a combination of unrelated words.
